"RECONCILING JUDGMENT: TRUTH, AMNESTY AND REPARATION IN SOUTH AFRICA"

FRIDAY
11 MARCH 2005

2:30-4:00 PM

ROOM LB-608
The George Rudé Seminar Room
J. W. McConnell Building (1400 de Maisonneuve Blvd. West)

ERIC DOXTADER's publications, co-edited with Charles Villa-Vicencio, include To Repair the Irreparable: Reparation and Reconstruction in South Africa (Cape Town: David Philip, 2004); The Provocations of Amnesty: Memory, Justice and Impunity (Cape Town: David Philip, 2003); and Through Fire with Water: Violence, Transition, and the Potential for Reconciliation in Africa—Fifteen Case Studies (Cape Town: David Philip, 2003). While defended as a model for how some societies can heal the wounds of atrocity and promote democratic human rights, it is not clear that the South African Truth & Reconciliation Commission has succeeded. "What is reconciliation?" Prof. Doxtader will consider this key question.
